

Cause and Effect Essay Outline on Divorce

In today's society, divorce is more common than ever. 40% of all marriages are divorced. Webster's definition of divorce is an act or example of legal dissolution of marriage [1]. Divorce itself is cause and influence as well. Some of the reasons for divorce are lack of money, sexual harassment, ease of divorce and so on. These are some of the most common reasons for divorce. Furthermore, the effect of divorce seems to be unable to overcome when comparing the sadness, it caused to both sides.

Here is an outline that you can follow for writing your own cause and effect essay on divorce.

Introduction

- Introduce the topic
- Provide some background information
- Thesis statement

Body Paragraphs

- Causes of divorce
- Effects of divorce

Conclusion

- Restate the main idea of the essay
- End it with a thought-provoking question or a call to action