

Introduction

- Have you used two or three sentences to tell the reader what you are going to inform them about?
- Make sure you include informative details to support your topic.
- Are your supporting details informative and related to the topic?
- Make sure your topic is stated clearly.
- Please be sure that your reader is interested in what you are trying to inform them about.

Body

- Is there a paragraph for each of your 3 – 5 details?
- At the beginning of each paragraph, be sure to include the topic for that paragraph.
- You should also include details in each of your paragraphs to support the topic.
- Did you organize your essay in an order that makes sense?
- Make sure each paragraph transitions easily from one to the next.

Conclusion

- In your conclusion, did you restate the topic of the informative essay?
- Did your conclusion include enough information to leave the reader satisfied and well informed?
- Did you summarize the previous paragraphs in your informative essay?

Overall

- In your informative essay, have you told the reader everything that the need to know about the topic?
- Do all your paragraphs relate back to the original topic?
- Is the reader interested in what you wrote? Do they now know more about the topic than they did before reading your essay?